PATTULLO NAMED PERMANENT LEADER B.C. LIBERALS

Billy Arnold Wins Big Auto Classic; Mechanic Killed

P. Marshall Dead; Car Strikes Wall And Leaves Track

165,000 Spectators Get Added Thrill When Six Cars Pile Up Early in Race; Arnold Sets Terrific Pace and Leads From Start to Finish Makes But One Stop in Gruelling Struggle for Honors; Winner Averages 100.448 Miles an Hour.

Indianapolis, May 30.—Paul Marshall, mechanic in the car which crashed into the wall and left the track, in the 500-mile automobile race here to-day, died of injuries at 12:30 p.m.

Cy Marshall, driver of the car, was reported to be suffering from a fracture of the skull. His condition is critical. The dead mechanic and the driver were brothers.

Canadian Press
Speedway, Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—Billy Arnold, youthful Chicago driver, won the 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis speedway to-day by ten miles with a record smashing crowd of 165,000 cheering him to victory.

Arnold was close to $55,000 in cash prize.
Arnold's time was 4:58:39.72.

Arnold led from start to finish, with the exception of two laps. He drove the entire distance, stopping only once in the 237th mile to take on fuel and change tires.

CANTON SECOND
William "Shorty" Canton finished second, three laps behind Arnold.

The youthful victor averaged 100.448 miles an hour.

As Arnold got the checkered flag signalling him as the winner, the crowd cut loose with a tremendous cheer.

Arnold is a graduate of the dirt tracks and a protégé of Cliff Woodbury, noted Chicago driver, who gave up racing after a serious accident a year ago.

Schneider, finishing third, covered the distance in 5:08:55.

"Wild Bill" Cummings, Indianapolis, finished fifth, twenty-two miles after Arnold crossed the line, while Dave Evans of Evansville, Ind., was sixth.

SIX CARS PILE UP
The crowd was given an added thrill early in the race when six cars piled up on one of the curves. Luckily no one was injured, although all crews involved were forced out of the race.

TORIES VOTE DOWN CHANGE IN THE CODE

Conservative Senators Decline to Aid Liberal Move to Delete Sedition Section
Penalties Were Put in Criminal Code After 1919 Strike in Winnipeg

Ottawa, May 30.—The second attempt within two days to repeal certain sections of the Criminal Code dealing with sedition met defeat to-day in the Senate.

A majority of four Conservatives turned down a motion offered by Hon. James Murdock, Liberal, to delete the sections from the code.

The sections, defining the making more stringent penalties for sedition charges, were inserted in the code following the Winnipeg strike of 1919.

Senator Murdock termed them "an affront and reflection on the patriotism of all Canadians, and particularly the working classes."

The Senate divided on the motion as follows: For the motion, Senators Murdock, Hardy, Beldand, Belcourt, Dandurand, Forke, Sir Allen Aylesworth, Wilson (Rockcliffe), Hughes, Ross, Turgeon, Turfitt, Spence and Rankin, Liberals.

Against the motion, Senators McLean, Gordon, Daniel, Willoughby, Sir George Foster, Pope, Fisher, (Pembroke), Taylor, Martin, McCormick, Crowe, Green, Barnard, MacDonald, Schaffner, Chapais and Blondin, Conservatives.

Police Hunt Fourth Man; No Liquor Taken, It Is Stated

Vernon, B.C., May 30.—John Burns was remanded in police court here this morning on a charge of breaking and entering. William Foley is held on a similar charge and another man is held on a vagrancy charge in connection with the store attack at the Government Liquor Store before midnight on Thursday.

Police officers are scouring the city for a fourth man. The glass in the door was broken.

PARLIAMENT DISSOLUTION IS ARRANGED

Ending of Session To-night Will Bring Federal General Election July 28

Commons and Senate Rush Through Remaining Business Before Them

Ottawa, May 30.—Prorogation of Parliament has been set for 9 o'clock to-night. Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader, announced this to the Senate shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The Senate had only the supply bill to discuss.

The ending of the session and dissolution before midnight will permit of July 28 being set as the date of the general election.

Ottawa, May 30.—The House of Commons met at 2:30 in place of 3 this afternoon, having declared it would continue to sit until prorogation. A motion by Premier King to this effect was carried shortly after 1 p.m. without discussion.

The bells summoned the members back to the Commons chamber at 11 this forenoon to resume the consideration of the estimates. This was expected to be the last day of the session. If the business could be closed up to-night Parliament would be dissolved immediately so it would be possible to hold the general election July 28.

NOMINATION DAY
With few exceptions in some widely spread ridings the nominations will be held the Monday before the election. In these particular constituencies the nominations will be a week earlier.

The Commons lost no time this forenoon in getting down to work where they had left off at 1 o'clock this morning.

Post Office Department items were soon under consideration. An appropriation of $7,338,269.40 was first taken up. The amount included $18,229,044.40 for salaries and allowances; $17,267,000 for mail services, including mail service by air; $1,286,675 under the heading of miscellaneous; and $150,000 for the Yukon Territory.

HOURS OF WORK
E. J. Garland, U.F.A., Bow River, said that in some of the smaller post office employees worked ten hours a day. He wanted to know if the Post-Office Department was aware of this.

MACKENZIE KING WILL VISIT COAST

Kamloops, May 30.—Premier Mackenzie King will include the Pacific coast in his election tourney. It was learned by committee men of the British Columbia Liberal Association in session here to-day, presumably from Capt. Ian Mackenzie.

The Premier's exact itinerary has not yet been mapped out for his campaign tour, but it is believed his visit to Vancouver will be fairly early in the contest.

HARBOR PLANS AT VANCOUVER ARE APPROVED

Vancouver, May 30.—Official announcement was made to-day by Vancouver Harbor Commissioners B. G. Hanauld and A. M. Pound that the Federal government had approved the full $12,000,000 building programme laid down some months ago by the commission.

This consists of a new pier as large as the Ballantyne Pier. A 2,000,000-bushel addition to No. 1 elevator, a fish wharf and tugboat terminal and a cold storage plant.

Plans for these various works are already prepared or are being prepared.

The statement of the commissioners also includes an announcement that expropriation proceedings are to be taken to obtain a section of property at Moodyville, on the North Shore.

EX-CLERK OF CITY IS DYING OF POISONING

F. M. Bentley, Lying in Vancouver Hospital, Dismissed By Council

No City Pension For His Family; Shortages in Accounts

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 30.—Frederick M. Bentley is slowly dying in the Vancouver General Hospital from the effects of bichloride of mercury, which he swallowed when he learned of the discovery of his thefts from the city scavenging department, where for years he had been chief clerk.

When death finally comes to release him from his pain of mind and body, he will not pass on with the thought that his wife and little daughter are provided for, but with the knowledge that the civic pension which they might have had is cut off.

The city council yesterday afternoon, gathered in special meeting, formally passed a motion dismissing Bentley. The finance committee on Wednesday had recommended his dismissal, but it was not effective until the committee's recommendation was ratified by the council.

There was no public discussion beyond the announcement of Mayor W. H. Malkin that the council was to deal with the dismissal of Bentley, and the formal motion which dismissed the employee and simultaneously terminated any chance of his two dependents receiving the pension which would ordinarily have gone to them.

WILL GIVES WILD LAND TO PREMIER

Mr. King Owner of Lake Superior Lot By Toronto Woman's Bequest

Toronto, May 30.—By a will drawn up in 1917, before Mr. King was Prime Minister or even Liberal leader, Mrs. Kate M. Totten, widow, Toronto, bequeathed a 400-acre lot on the west side of the Batchewana River, near Lake Superior, to the Prime Minister.

Mrs. Totten died March 7 and in her will she said: "Hoping he (Mr. King) will take an interest in disposing of any real estate which I bequeath to my heirs, which has been a source of much unhappiness to me during my life."

Other assets include $4,000 in shares of Canadian Nickel.

WORTH $60
Ottawa, May 30.—Premier King's inheritance from the late Mrs. Kate M. Totten of Toronto, who bequeathed to him by her will a 400-acre lot on the West bank of the Batchewana River on Lake Superior, is worth about $60.

Some district members of Parliament estimate.

Agricultural land in the north country, they say, is worth about 50 cents an acre, but the land donated by Mrs. Totten is believed to be very rocky, its value comes to only 15 cents an acre.

OVATION FOR PARTY CHIEF AT KAMLOOPS

Confirmation of Temporary Leader as Permanent Head of Liberals in Province Moved by A. M. Manson, K.C., at Triennial Convention This Afternoon; Speeches To-night Will Be Broadcast Through Vancouver and Kamloops Stations; Liberals in Dominion Contest Introduced at Rally.

PRESIDING AT BIG LIBERAL MEETING

MRS. MARY ELLEN SMITH

NO LIBERAL NOMINATION IN OKANAGAN

By Times Staff Representative
Kamloops, May 30.—British Columbia Liberals will concentrate all their energies on the coming Dominion election. With this in view it was announced at the provincial Liberal convention which opened here this morning it has been decided not to enter a candidate in the North Okanagan by-election, resulting from the resignation of W. F. Kennedy, Conservative M.P., who is to take a place on the Liquor Control Board. One hundred attended the Liberal meeting at Armstrong last night.

Speakers declared in view of the shortness of time, the by-election being set for June 12, and because of the bigger issues looming in the Dominion fight, it was advisable that all energies be directed to the Dominion campaign. Speakers also declared that as the Tories Government had made lavish pre-election promises which have not been implemented so far, it would be good political strategy to do nothing which might be interpreted as interfering with carrying them out.

The point was also made that changes in administration of the Liquor Board should not be made an issue of a snap vote by-election.

While Liberals were in session at Armstrong, Conservatives at Vernon nominated George Heggie over Percy French by a vote 81 to 10, thus practically establishing Mr. Heggie as the new member for North Okanagan.

SENATE TWICE DEFEATS MOVE TO BAN RACE TIPS

MACKENZIE OFFERED FEDERAL POST, SAYS KAMLOOPS REPORT

By Times Staff Representative
Kamloops, May 30.—No public statement regarding the plans of Capt. Ian Mackenzie was made at the morning session of the Liberal convention, but as adjournment came at noon it was learned that Mackenzie would likely return as the new Dominion cabinet minister for British Columbia. In either Vancouver Centre against the Hon. H. H. Stevens, or in North Vancouver against General A. D. Macrae, which constituency Capt. Mackenzie now represents in the provincial House. It is understood that the offer of a Federal portfolio was made to Capt. Mackenzie when he was in Ottawa last week on his return from Scotland. He said at noon that he could say nothing definite about his plans until after he had returned to Vancouver and discussed them with members of his party there.

SECOND VOTE
The vote to-day was the Senate's second on the subject of racing odds. Yesterday, by twenty-one to six, the member voting directly on the section, defeated it while the several amendments approved by the Commons were under discussion.

By Times Staff Representative
Kamloops, May 30.—Given a great ovation by Liberals from every point in British Columbia here for the British Columbia triennial convention, T. D. Pattullo, temporary leader of the party for the last two years, was named permanent Provincial leader this afternoon. Mr. Pattullo's entrance to the hall at the morning session of the convention was a signal for a great outburst of cheering. His nomination as permanent leader was made this afternoon by A. M. Manson, K.C., and no other name was put before the convention. Another great ovation was given Mr. Pattullo when his election was formally announced.

With more than 150 delegates registered and representing every part of the Province, the convention opened in the Masonic Hall here this morning. Delegates came in special cars attached to all trains on both C.N.R. and C.P.R. lines, while a number came by motor from Victoria, Nanaimo and Vancouver. Some of the Prince Rupert and northern delegates motored from Smithers.

Interest in the convention this afternoon centered in the nomination for the office of permanent Provincial leader of T. D. Pattullo, M.P.P. for Prince Rupert, who has been temporary leader of the party for the last two years since the Maclean Government went out of power.

Captain Ian Mackenzie, M.P.P. for North Vancouver, who has been on a trip to Scotland, arrived here from Ottawa just as the convention was opening.

He told the Victoria Times that he could say nothing at this time about the report that he was to enter the Dominion field as the member of the cabinet for British Columbia to succeed Hon. J. H. King, who it is reported is likely to be elevated to the Senate.

BROADCAST TO-NIGHT
To broadcast the speeches of Mr. Pattullo and others at the convention from 8 to 10 o'clock to-night, B.C. Broadcasting Bureau arrived from Vancouver. The broadcast will be put on the air over stations CJOH, Vancouver, and CJOX, Kamloops.

Liberals in the Dominion field are looking prominently in the convention, Harry G. Perry, former M.P.P. for Port Moody, B.C., said.

Sovereign, Recovered, Receives Commerce Chambers' Heads

London, May 30.—King George today received the delegates to the Congress of the Federation of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire, his first public activity since an attack of rheumatism suspended his state functions early in the week.

The 100 delegates were presented to the King by the Lord Chamberlain. His Majesty wore morning attire and appeared in good health. It was said he had responded remarkably to treatment of his ailment.

Opposed to the amendment were Senators Gordon, Daniel, Blondin, Willoughby, Pope, McLean, Fisher, White (Pembroke), Taylor, Martin, McCormick, Crowe, Green, Barnard, MacDonald and Schaffner, Conservatives.

Those who voted in favor of the amendment were: Senators Beldand, Dandurand, Forke, Sir Allen Aylesworth, Hughes, Ross, Turgeon, Turfitt, Spence, Liberals, and Foster and Chapais, Conservatives.

Under discussion.

Sockeye Salmon Pact Is Ratified By Canada

Bill Passed By Commons Is Approved By The Senate; Premier King Explains Changes Made in Original Treaty

Ottawa, May 30.—The 1930 session of Parliament is notable for the placing on the books of a treaty between Canada and the United States for the preservation and extension of the sockeye salmon fisheries of the Fraser River system.

The bill passed by the House of Commons yesterday was adopted by the Senate last night.

One of the chief features of the treaty is that it provides for the appointment of an international Pacific salmon fisheries commission of six members, three Canadian and three United States representatives to regulate operations. Having approved the pact, Canada now awaits ratification by the United States.

CHANGE SEEN
Near the conclusion of the debate in the Commons Premier King said the bill evidently would receive the unanimous support of the House. This was a cause of no little gratification. Last (Concluded on Page 7)

CITY THROWS OUT COLWOOD RACE OFFERS

Insistence on Automatic Betting Machines Precipitates Rift

Rejection of Ten-year Extension Plan For Willows May Tie-up Development

A definite cleavage between the city and the Colwood Park Association as to an extension of racing at the Willows, and results which may prevent execution of plans tentatively laid for the development of the fair grounds this year, marked the closing discussion on the race lease offer of the association by the City Council yesterday afternoon. After a two-hour deadlock in which both sides appeared unwilling to yield beyond a certain point, the council rose in committee without report, terminating all further consideration of the proposals.

At the opening of the meeting H. S. Fringle, city solicitor, reported little advance had been made by the meeting of the solicitors for the respective parties, the association holding out for a limitation of liability in regard to the use of automatic betting machines. This report, with a letter in similar terms from H. M. Fox, solicitor for the association, centred council discussion around two clauses in the proposed pact to extend the present term of the lease of the Willows track for a further period of ten years from 1932.

CLAUSES DEBATED
Known as clauses 5 and 6 this disputed ground was contained in the following terms:

Clause 5: The racing association agrees to use at any race meet to be held during the said period on the said track automatic betting machines recognized by law and approved by the municipal council of the corporation; a separate machine to be installed for straight, place and show betting respectively, and also a separate machine capable of issuing combination tickets; provided always that it is hereby expressly agreed that the foregoing requirements of this clause shall not be operative unless the use of the said machines shall be available to the racing association at a cost not exceeding one-half of one per cent of the money passing through the track on the condition that the cost of supplying, installing, maintaining and operating the said machines, and the cost of errors made during their operation shall be borne by the person or company supplying the said machines.

Clause 6: The racing association covenants and agrees that it will use its best endeavors to procure and operate automatic betting machines at the Willows track during the currency of the agreement, but that in the event of the failure to procure and operate automatic betting machines as required by clause 5 hereof it will produce to the municipal council of the corporation proof satisfactory to the said council that it has used all reasonable means and has exerted all reasonable efforts by correspondence, advertising and otherwise to procure each year during the period covered by this agreement the use of automatic betting machines on the basis outlined in said clause 5 hereof. The racing association hereby obligates itself for the purposes of this and the preceding clause 5 hereof to communicate with the makers and distributors of automatic machines, whose names and addresses may be supplied by the municipal council of the corporation.

FEARED HOLD-UP

Perry Fox, on behalf of the association, stood firmly for the passage of clause 5 in its entirety. On the other basis could the association be sure of doing business without being held up, he said. Clause 5 was an additional safeguard to the city that all reasonable efforts to secure machines would be made before any move was considered for their abandonment. The city was already assured of the continued use of the machines for two years. By that time it was likely that automatic betting machines would be a common requirement on all Canadian tracks, on Government orders. The association wanted to use the machines, and would do so if they could be secured for the further ten-year period at a cost that would permit of racing operations with a fair and reasonable profit, said Mr. Fox.

Alderman Strath: The agreement as drawn says you must use machines. This clause merely says that you must use your best endeavors to use the machines.

Alderman Woodward: Yes, but if they don't use the machines they must furnish proof to the city of those efforts. They would be under an obligation to show us what was done about it. They say in effect that they can pay one-half of one per cent and no more. This limitation of their liability is a wise course for the city to follow, I submit.

Mr. Fox: The one-half of one per cent is all right, but the crux of the situation lies in who is to pay for the cost of errors in the machines.

Alderman Dewar: Mr. Fox with a change of attitude in regard to the willingness of the association to pay to the city any difference saved if the machines were not used. This difference, he said, had been stated to the council to be $2,300 a year.

WAS MISUNDERSTANDING
Mr. Fox replied that this was a misunderstanding. No such difference could exist, he said. The cost of ticket operation, without machines, would be an increase of $216 a racing day over the cost of ticket issuance by machines, entailing watchers, boardmen, and added cost of tickets themselves. Against this would be saved the cost of the errors in the machines, bills for electrical repair and various items, making a balance in favor of the machineless betting of about $20 a day as a saving. The association would be willing to discuss adjusting this difference with the city on the basis of the actual saving if machines were not used, he said.

Mayor Anson: I am going to vote for some kind of an agreement, but not one that will cripple the city. Would you be willing to agree that in two years' time you will use any machine approved by the department of agriculture? Mr. Fox: There is no machine like the Australian one, if it is properly cared for and operated. Three times it was thrown out and I fought to have permission extended again. Now, that is not the action of a man who does not want to use the machine, is it?

Alderman Woodward: Why not throw out clause 5 and leave it at clause 6, that the association will use their best efforts, to our satisfaction, to procure and use machines?

Mr. Fox: We are paying one per cent right now, with the $4,600 a year, and the cost of the errors.

Alderman Strath: Clause 6 is just a jumble of words. It doesn't mean anything. About that $4,600, is not that for the three race meets, including Colwood and the Willows?

Mr. Fox: Yes, for three meets.

WANTED ACTION
Alderman Litchfield said he would like to see action this year to improve the Willows ground generally, in line with all plans entertained in that connection. He believed that the suggested amendments to the agreement were the best that could be produced in the light of all the circumstances, and would move the adoption of both clauses 5 and 6.

Mr. Fox: If you sign that clause I am satisfied that the Australian company will sign a ten-year agreement on those terms.

Alderman Adam suggested that the association should first make its terms with the betting machine company, and then approach the city when these terms were known.

The association had said that it was only able to pay one figure, and little good could come from further discussion on that point, said Alderman Woodward.

Alderman Strath: I think there should be provision for certain use of the automatic machines. If we sign that clause they would have us over the hip, for it is quite obvious if Colwood asks the company to assume the cost of errors in the machines the company will ask more than half of one per cent. Then the city would be over a barrel as far as the machines were concerned.

Alderman Dewar: I move an amendment, that the association be obliged to pay the city $500 a year more if they fail to use the machines.

Mayor Anson: Would you be willing to agree to that, Mr. Fox?

Mr. Fox: I'm sorry, Mr. Mayor, but we could not do that. But we would be quite willing that the actual figure be taken, and that some adjustment be made in favor of the city. It would not be over $20 a day in any event, for each day of racing.

Alderman Smith: The people said very clearly they wanted machines, and we should do nothing to depart from this, especially if it is on a ten-year basis.

PARLEY BREAKS UP

Clause 5, the limitation-of-liability clause, was then put to the vote, and defeated by a vote of seven to three. Alderman Woodward, Peden and Litchfield supported the motion; and Mayor Anson, Alderman Strath, Mrs. Smith, Dewar, Cullin and Adam declared against it. Clause 6 went by default, the association having already said it would not continue to offer if the first provision were deleted.

Alderman Woodward moved that the resolution be amended to read: "The proposed ten-year lease extension, and officials of the association filed out of the room without further parley." As it stands at present the city is in agreement with the association for two more years racing at the Willows with the compulsory use of machines. Another aspect of the case lies in the city's desire to move the race track and present grandstand to make way for a more ambitious general plan of Franchised Government. The association's offer meant a new track and grandstand immediately, and now that this is rejected a tie-up of the whole Willows issue appears probable.

Test "Artificial Fever" as Way of Driving Out Disease

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

In the great trade war between the manufacture of cooking utensils from various types of metal all sorts of arguments have been used to secure the public's favor.

Years ago it was suggested that eating from enameled cooking utensils might be dangerous because of the possibility of chips getting into the food and producing irritations. For this there was little, if any, scientific evidence and the hazard is so small as to be negligible.

The introduction of aluminum cooking utensils was followed by the argument that the aluminum got into the food and acted as a poison and caused dangerous combinations and that it vitiated the food and lowered its vitamins. Modern industry when accused is likely to procure research to show to answer the question. Hence research has been carried on in the Mellon Institute to find out whether or not the boiling of milk and aluminum cookings utensils would have this effect.

The study was apparently made with relationship to vitamin C, the anti-scurvy vitamin. Milk is unfortunately not a good source of vitamin C even under the best of conditions. For this reason the diet of an infant is regularly supplemented with orange juice or some other fresh fruit or vegetable juice in order to aid the vitamin C deficiency.

In the Mellon Institute experiments, the statement was then made that the cooking in aluminum cooking utensils produced dangerous combinations and that it vitiated the food and lowered its vitamins. Modern industry when accused is likely to procure research to show to answer the question. FOUR BODIES RECOVERED

Baltimore, May 30.—The deaths of Wilbert Alban, fifteen; Donald Moore, twelve; John Kelly, fourteen; and Francis Welden, nine, engulfed by sudden flood waters which swept through a big storm sewer in which they were playing, was established yesterday with recovery of the bodies in the harbor.

Slide last Saturday, when they were playing near the entrance to the drain more than two miles from the harbor, the boys had been sought all over the state in the hope they had left their dangerous play place before the storm and were runaways.

A lion will sometimes eat as much as 70 pounds of meat at one meal.

CONSTITUENCY BORDERS SET BY FEDERAL BILL

Canadian Press Ottawa, May 30.—After a vigorous protest from Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, the bill to amend the Representation Act was withdrawn in the House of Commons yesterday by Hon. Lucien Cannon, Solicitor-General. In introducing it Mr. Cannon said he proposed to delete the provision affecting the Yukon and the Northwest Territories. This left only a provision affecting the mining area in the district of Patricia in Ontario. It was proposed to add this area to the electoral district of Kenora.

Banting Institute Is to Be Opened

Toronto, May 30.—Announcement was made at a banquet of medical alumni here last night that the first decade of insulin, greatest medical discovery since the days of Pasteur, will be marked in this city on September 16 and 17 by the opening of the new Banting Institute of Medicine.

In making the announcement Dean Primrose stated Lord Moyra, president of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, England, would officially open the new building.

SENATE IS FOR EMPLOYMENT PUBLISHING OF RACING ODDS CHURCH LEADERS

Kills Amendment to Criminal Code Voted By Commons

Canadian Press Ottawa, May 30.—The Senate yesterday defeated the proposed section in the amendments to the Criminal Code which would have prohibited the publishing of race track betting odds and tips. The vote was registered as follows: Against, twenty-one; for, six.

The clause, which has been before both the House of Commons and the Senate, on previous occasions and was defeated, would have prohibited the printing of odds on the premises of a race track, any tips, selections, odds, pari-mutuel payments or other information whether about a race that was about to be held or having taken place. It also would have banned the conveyance of any information to assist in bookmaking, pool selling or betting on any fight, game, sport or race other than horse racing.

It was passed by Commons Wednesday night.

When the Senate went into committee stage, Hon. Simon White, Conservative leader, asked Senator R. B. Dandurand, government leader, if the clause would prohibit the importation of papers from the United States if they contained racing results. The reply was in the affirmative.

"What about the British papers?" asked Senator White.

"They come to Canada about ten days after they are issued," declared Senator Dandurand. "They would hardly come in under the section when racing information they might contain would be that late. It would be no use to any person."

Senator White went on to say that three or four months before an important race, English papers began publishing odds and other information. He also pointed out that the section referred to a race that has or has not taken place.

He agreed with the interpretation of the government leader.

Senator Dandurand offered to suggest to the Minister of Justice that an exception be made by the Canadian papers, although that would bring about a situation he would not like to take responsibility for.

PARI-MUTUEL FIGURES The discussion then turned to the question of newspapers publishing pari-mutuel odds by horse in a race. Senator Dandurand said he never had been able to see the weight of the argument that betting on races helped to develop horses and that "it forms an incentive without which racing would not be a success."

Parliament in the past had legislated against lotteries and other forms of gambling and the present bill had the object "of curbing the spirit of gambling and curbing the game of chance to those attending the races." It was to minimize the evils of betting.

Senator White said horse racing was a national game. The bill would prohibit Canadian newspapers from saying anything about it beyond the mere listing of the horses in the order of their finishing. He expressed the opinion that there was no widespread demand, "although there might be some special newspapers advocating it."

"This is a type of Puritanical legislation of which there is altogether too much on the statute books now," said Senator H. W. Laird, Conservative, Regina.

Mr. Wood disclosed that he was backing the enterprise to the extent of $100,000 when he explained that the picture-making machines cost approximately $1,000 each, and that he had ordered 200 of them. He has practically concluded arrangements for leasing on a royalty basis machines to be used at Coney Island, Long Beach, Asbury Park, Long Beach, and other places.

Mr. Wood stated that he was in England about five years ago the patent rights for a camera invention which made motion pictures of the subject and required five hours for developing and finishing. For the past two years Stanley J. Peak, a young inventor of New York, with extensive experience as a cameraman, has been perfecting the device. He has reduced the time for finishing pictures to six minutes and made the device commercially marketable.

Mr. Woods at the beginning of the theatrical season last March withdrew from a pigeonhole in his desk all the papers relating to the patent and had a conference with Mr. Peak, who reported surprising progress. He decided to organize a company to market the invention during the five months that intervene before the new theatrical season for which he has scheduled five productions.

"If I hadn't had several flops," laughed Mr. Woods, "probably would not have found the time to give to this very interesting and novel invention."

The motion picture apparatus controlled by Mr. Woods may be described as a camera equipped with a self-operating and developing camera, electrically powered, which turns out motion pictures of the subject by merely pressing a button. It has an operating capacity of 360 pictures an hour. The finished product appears in a small screen frame which becomes animated through pressure of the finger on the edges of the frame, which is 2½ inches by 4 inches.

The motion quality of the picture is produced and the definite color of the subject under a screen.

NAVAL TREATY DEBATE

London, May 30.—Premier MacDonald told the House of Commons yesterday that a Conservative motion for the appointment of a select committee to examine and report on the proposals contained in the London Naval Treaty would be debated in the House next Monday.

Moore Jaw, Sask., May 30.—That the church should make some provision for those out of employment and in distress, due to conditions in Canada, was the substance of a motion debated but not disposed of by the Lay Members' Association of the United Church at a meeting in connection with the fifth annual conference held here yesterday.

The resolution introduced by Mr. Justice Taylor of Moose Jaw was as follows:

"That the Lay Members' Association express its views that it is the duty of the church to make provision for those in distress throughout Canada due to unemployment."

"That this association make a charge upon the missionary and maintenance fund and that the work be delegated to that board."

"And that this resolution be presented to conference."

The lay members also discussed the fact that the lay members took little part in the work of the conference. The outcome of the discussion was the passage of a motion appointing a committee to draw a constitution and consider the suggestion of two-year appointments as lay delegates.

The jury came to its conclusions within five minutes after the evidence had been delivered.

THE ELECTION

UNLESS ANYTHING UNFORESEEN should develop during the late hours of this evening, the voters of Canada will go to the polls on July 28 to elect a new Parliament. Ever since the Prime Minister announced that an election would be held this summer, of course, the campaign has been regarded as under way. But the serious business of asking for votes will not be begun until after prorogation and dissolution—a matter of a comparatively few minutes after the order paper has been cleared.

It is hardly necessary to say that the principal issue of the campaign will be the Dunning budget. And although fiscal matters as a rule do not command the interest of the average voter, on this occasion the people of the country, more than at any time since the war, are vitally concerned in the proposals which the Minister of Finance laid before Parliament a month ago. It is only natural that the forces led by Mr. Bennett are somewhat at a loss to know what to say or do about them. On the other hand, the government and its supporters are in a position to discuss them with the utmost candor and confidence, if for no other reason than that Mr. Dunning has interpreted the wishes of the Canadian people.

The two outstanding points of the budget, of course, are the substantial reductions in the duty on a wide range of British goods, and the aid which the countervailing duties will extend to the producers of this country under several heads.

In the case of the former, no fewer than 270 items under the British preferential tariff are involved, while the number of articles from the United Kingdom that will now enter Canada free of duty is 598 out of a total of 1,186, or an extension of the preference on a group of British imports of approximately $200,000,000 in value.

In the case of the latter, the Canadian producer will be assisted because the countervailing duties call for reciprocal treatment of customs duties in relation to foreign countries in a considerable number of items. For instance, those engaged in mixed farming will be aided against the undermining of the local market by an invasion of dumped products.

Other matters which government candidates will be able to discuss with the electorate with equal candor and confidence are important reductions in taxation, the payment of approximately $270,000,000 off the national debt in the last five years, the negotiation of treaties with British and foreign countries with the object of finding markets for Canada's increasing production under all heads, as well as many other policies directed toward the development of the country's resources—policies which, in the words of Mr. S. H. Logan, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, have made it possible for Canadian production to exceed that of the world by a wide margin in many of the important branches of its economic life.

So far there has been no intimation of what Mr. Bennett would do if he were elected with a sufficient following to enable him to form a government. He and his party are opposed to the British Preference; he would not lower the duties on British goods until Great Britain agreed to reciprocate by taxing her foreign imports. He and his party are opposed to the treaty with Australia which has been such a boon to British Columbia; he objected to the one-cent duty on Antipodean butter. The Canadian people, of course, are more desirous than ever to increase our trade with Great Britain. The Dunning budget makes this possible. Mr. Dunning also has increased the butter duty from one cent to four cents a pound. Mr. Bennett has been demanding a "brick-for-brick" policy in relation to certain commodities which enter this country from the United States and compete unfairly with Canadian products. So Mr. Dunning has come to the aid of the Canadian producer with his countervailing duties.

All Mr. Bennett has to say to this aspect of the budget is that the government has stolen his party's "thunder." All he has had to say about the British Preference is that it does not mean as much to the British exporter as the government says it will mean. Yet he knows that Britain is singing Mr. Dunning's praises for the new concessions he has extended, while influential commercial circles in the United States already are predicting a loss of between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 worth of business as a result of the budget's operation in this and other respects.

As we already have said, the government will go to the country with policies that will aid Canada's primary industries, as well as her manufactures, thereby paying due regard to the best interests of the consumers, while its traditional policy of lowering the duties on British goods will lend new impetus to the cause of empire trade.

A FRIEND OF BRITAIN'S CLIMATE

GREAT BRITAIN'S CLIMATE OFTEN has been described as the worst in the world. But the June number of Harper's Magazine contains an article by Mary Borden entitled, "A Defence of the English Climate," in which she tells us plainly that the climate of the Old Land is the best in the world. Those citizens of Victoria who have some personal knowledge of weather in the British Isles will be interested to observe how Mrs. Borden supports her assertion:

"The truth is that the English climate is the best in the world because it is just depressing enough and, though beastly, not too beastly, and so does two things to human beings. It puts the brake on nervous energy, but gently whips up the senses, and sends the blood of men coursing through their veins just as it sends the sap and juices of plants running rich in theirs. It refreshes and renews the normal springs of life. Under its influence, life, the essence of it, is vigorous to bursting."

Mrs. Borden says that she writes with special enthusiasm because she is a convert. She was born and brought up in the United States but has lived in England since her marriage.

"I don't say that the climate of the United States is beastly," she proceeds. "I say that it is dangerous and that the English climate is safe. And some of my American readers will snort like war horses and cavort about and toss their heads and be glad they weren't born in that slow, safe country. If you are young and fiery your feelings are natural."

"American youth is very inspiring; not so inspiring is American old age. Life burns in America with too bright a flare to burn long. Men and women break down there, just when in England they are reaching the height of their mental and physical powers. We've no class in America of grand old men to offset against the same class in England. Our grand old ladies are fewer. Old ladies wither quickly in the United States or turn to fat and subside into rocking chairs with boxes of chocolates beside them; and I attribute this to the climate. Indeed, I attribute everything in every country to the climate."

After all, it depends upon our individual outlook as to whether climate has any influence upon our lives. Some there are who immediately get down-hearted as soon as the skies become overcast. Others are too busy with their own particular interests, too busy attending to the job upon which they may be engaged, to be worried very much about the weather. However, Britain's climate, often libelled, may take heart from Mrs. Borden's eulogy.

ONTARIO WILL DEAL WITH DIVORCE

ONE PIECE OF LEGISLATION PASSED at the session of Parliament now drawing to a close at Ottawa which will mark it as distinct from other sessions—when discussion of the subject achieved nothing—is that giving jurisdiction to the courts of Ontario to deal with divorce.

A good deal of speculation has been indulged in as to whether the operation of this law will have any influence upon the number of divorces in Ontario. Experience alone will determine the point. One thing is clear, however, it will remove from the Senate the annual job of listening to and dealing with petitions in respect of matrimonial disagreements in that province.

What this labor has meant to the Senate committee entrusted with it is reflected in the fact that this year the upper chamber has passed more bills to dissolve marriage than in any other year of the past ten, if not since Confederation. No fewer than 302 applications were received, of which 249 were recommended, 31 rejected, five withdrawn, while forty-two were not dealt with at all.

Taking this year's applications as an indication of the amount of work Ontario gives the Senate in this regard, next year's session of Parliament should have very little to do with divorce matters, since only a comparatively few cases come from Quebec, in which province the courts are not permitted to deal with divorce. Of this year's total applications recommended, 207 were from Ontario and only forty-two from Quebec.

STATESMANLIKE GASTRONOMY

THE ACADEMY OF GASTRONOMY, A unique institution which, as you would expect, flourishes in France, lately had a vacancy in its membership of forty picked gastronomes. To fill the vacant seat at its table, the academy has just elected Premier Tardieu. The qualifications of the organization, "good reputation, wit and good digestion," the Prime Minister of France, of course, possesses. As head of the government, his reputation is above question; as a Frenchman, he must have wit; and as a successful soldier and statesman, his great energy must be backed by physical fitness. And yet his election to the Academy of Gastronomy, we feel, is a grave blunder. Nothing more inconsiderate of Mr. Tardieu's welfare could have been imagined, for the great problem of public men everywhere is not to find choice food, but to avoid it.

To the average man in politics life is apt to be just one seven-course banquet after another. Under such handicaps it is difficult to preserve anything like the physical fitness which public life in this busy age requires. If a growing stoutness may be observed in the ranks of our leading statesmen, they are not to blame, but the people who insist on entertaining them not wisely but too well. Many a man who controls the fate of nations has wished as he sat down to the feast of luxury that he could stay at home and dine off bacon and eggs. Still, M. Tardieu cannot refuse to be one of the forty distinguished Frenchmen who dedicate their lives to digestion. It is part of the penalty that he must pay for greatness. But it is to be hoped that no such organization will ever flourish in Canada. Nature has not equipped us for such high endeavors.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THERE'S A CROWD

The Ohio State Journal

There's reason to believe that the fellow who coined the remark, "Two's company, three's a crowd," was speaking from the rumble seat.

SUNDAY BATHING

The Hamilton Spectator

Up in Stratford the question of whether bathing on Sundays at city-owned beaches should be permitted is being debated. Under an existing by-law, there is a taboo on Sabbath bathing at municipal beaches. The Lord's Day Alliance wants a continuance of this regulation, but it seems that there is a growing public demand for abolition of the by-law, and an interesting evening is ahead of the city council. Stratford, one of the most picturesque of Ontario's smaller cities, has a reputation for progressiveness, too. Which makes one wonder why it is she has persisted in an old fogey notion that wholesome recreation should be frowned on in her parks on the Sabbath. It is not illegal to bathe elsewhere than at her municipal beaches on Sundays. There are a number of points on the lake where facilities for wading and swimming are almost as good as on her park fronts. Hundreds of her citizens who own motor cars frequent these spots on Sundays, and, as The Stratford rector-Herald points out, the taboo only prevents non-automobile owners from bathing.

By H. B. W.

THE SCETCHES of this age in the large, important things of life I can endure with quiet philosophy, but when it is applied to the little, unimportant ones I find it distressing. Thus when a man who calls himself a constant reader wrote me to-day to speak sceptically about the veracity of this column, well, I felt rather badly. I wouldn't mind anyone questioning the accuracy of this column's statement about anything worth while. But I do object to such a challenge when it involves my name. Mr. McGregor, and the politics of this district. "In your column of May 22," writes this sceptical correspondent, "you make an astounding statement (which is nothing new, but quite flattering, nevertheless). Whereas you have always given us to believe and, indeed, reiterated the fact that you maintain a strict veracity in your column, despite 'serious natural handicaps,' yet here you confess openly that your statements concerning the size of a frog (whom you whimsically name Mr. McGregor) have been nothing but pure speculation! This has confirmed a suspicion of mine which, as your constant reader, I do not like to entertain. May I ask, how the admission of fabrication affects your story of old George Pudbury and his political views? I have diligently searched the directory for the name Pudbury, but to no avail. I hesitate to make such an accusation, but I must. There can be no such person as old George Pudbury. Pure speculation, sir, is admissible when it concerns a family of frogs, but you must realize when it touches upon current and serious political issues your readers are at least entitled to forewarning. Possibly you can reassure us. I, indeed, hope so."

THIS COLUMN cannot reassure a man like that. He is an unbeliever. You probably would find, if you investigated him, that he doesn't believe in fables. He cannot be expected to believe this column. But for the satisfaction of unphilosophical people who may have secret doubts (for which I can hardly blame them) let it be said here and now and for all time that there is indeed a George Pudbury, a family of frogs and everything else as represented in this column. It is quite probable, as my correspondent declares, that Pudbury cannot be recognized in the directory. As a matter of fact, he can't recognize himself in this column, though I think he has been suspicious once or twice. But this doesn't make him any less real. As this very moment I can look out of my window and see him ploughing a field with a single horse which he purchased under rather extraordinary auspices last week, and about which I shall give the full facts to the public shortly. And as for his political views, they have been accurately quoted in this column on every occasion. About these "serious current political issues" over which my correspondent is so alarmed, Pudbury's advice is given to the electors without any adornment from me, and without any fee, either. At this time of national crisis it should be very useful.

BUT I MUST not be too hard on the writer of the letter quoted above. He is not the only one who has questioned the existence of people who sometimes adorn this column. I am asked constantly about this very matter, and I do not resent such inquiries, for it shows that others besides myself are interested in matters which may, doubtless, seem extremely dull. You would be quite amazed, as I have been, to find how general is the interest of people in things which have no importance whatever. My experience, in fact, almost persuades me that the less important the subject, the greater the public interest in it.

YOU, NO doubt, have often wondered why a sedate column of this sort should ever bother to mention Pudbury and the birds and frogs and other inhabitants of this neighborhood. I would not continue to do so but for the insistent inquiries of people whom you would never expect to waste their time on such trivial concerns. Nor do these queries come from peculiar people like myself. The most normal and hard-boiled men have approached me on the subject. A government official of high standing, unassailable reputation and chilly dignity informed me only to-day, in strictest confidence, of course, that he loved to read about little birds and such things and finally, with a blush, confessed that he kept two squirrels in a cage at home in his back yard, where no one would see them. A business man who weighs 250 pounds, wears stiff collars, carries a gold-headed cane and drives with a chauffeur, told me in a hasty voice that his one regret in life was that he had not gone on the land and "hewed a little home out of the primordial forest, sir." Anything to do with tea out-of-doors, he said, stirred him very deeply, and when I told him about the robin's nest in my plum tree I thought he would break down and weep upon his well-starched bosom. "You know," he said, "I am a savage, really—a child of nature at heart." With that, he heaved his 250 pounds into his limousine, and ordered his uniformed chauffeur to drive him to his club for a cocktail.

A THIRD MAN, who sells groceries, supports the service club movement and is thoroughly modern in every way, stopped me on the street only yesterday to tell me that last autumn he brought a horned toad or some reptile of the sort up from southern California with him and had kept it all winter in a box of sand in his kitchen. But the climate here, he said, did not agree with it and he was going to make another trip down to California this summer and take the creature back to its native heath. It would never do to mention it to his friends, he said, because it sounded perfectly silly. But he couldn't bear to think of his horned toad having to spend another winter away from the heat and sunshine of the south.

WITH SUCH communications from such men I cannot avoid the conclusion that there is a spark of the divine fire in everyone, however dim. And, strangely enough, the harder-boiled they appear on the surface, the softer I find them underneath. It seems inevitable, therefore, and I warn you in advance so that you may avoid them, that reports from time to time must be inserted in this otherwise blameless column on the progress of nature and Mr. Pudbury out our way.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, MAY 30, 1905

Only one or two matters of special importance occupied the attention of the City Council at the regular meeting held last evening. Mayor Barnard presided.

Beautiful weather and a jolly company of passengers and a smooth sea were the pleasant features of the voyage completed this morning from the Orient by the R.M.S. Empress of Japan.

The excursion on the steamer Troquois among the islands on the east coast on Sunday was most successful.

Two important decisions were arrived at at the special meeting of the school trustees called last evening to consider the reply of the City Council to the board's request for an appropriation for current expenditure. One was that the board can not see its way clear to reduce the estimates it has prepared for ordinary expenditure, and the other was that a copy of the estimates be sent to the Council of Public Instruction with the request that the opinion of the Attorney-General be obtained.

Hon. A. E. Smith, United States consul, leaves this evening for Portland, Oregon, to be present at the opening of the Lewis and Clarke Exposition in that city on June 1.

Two of the Victoria sailing fleet, the E. B. Marvin and Enterprise, which it was supposed were en route to Victoria from the Atlantic after spending the past season on the Falkland Island coast, have returned to Nova Scotia.

RUSSIAN WHEAT SALES DEBATED BY COMMONS

Canadian Press

Ottawa, May 30—Alarm at the possibility of Russia becoming a factor in the world wheat market as a result of the organization of collective farms in that country was expressed in the House of Commons last night by E. J. Garfield, U.F.A. Bow River, when the estimates of the Department of Trade and Commerce were under consideration.

Mr. Garfield asked the Minister, Hon. James Macdonald, if he had any information about the situation in Russia. Mr. Macdonald replied it was very difficult to get accurate information, but so much of the information which came out of that country was propaganda that he did not feel any serious alarm.

Mr. Macdonald understood that having failed to organize industry on the communistic basis for mass production, Russia was now turning its attention to agriculture. A good deal of Russia's wheat production, however, would be consumed in that country. At present Canadian wheat was being sent into southern Russia and wheat was being exported from northern Russia. It was only in the north that Russia was turning its attention to wheat production.

"I have no intention of opening a detective agency in Russia or any other country," said Mr. Macdonald in reply to Mr. Garfield's suggestion the government should send a man to Russia to investigate.

Metchosin Has Short Talk By Bishop Basil

A successful silver tea, in aid of the funds of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Mary's Church, was held on Wednesday afternoon at "Crooby," the home of Mrs. Gavin Weir, many being present. Mrs. Bolton poured tea, and Mrs. Luker the coffee. The table was decorated with crimson pyrethrum and dark blue lupina. The guests were served by Mrs. H. S. Jordan, Mrs. Ferguson Reid and the Misses Milne, Gemmill, Barbara Johnson, Gwyneth Meredith Jones and Nonie Bolton. A short musical programme added to the enjoyment of the afternoon. Piano solos were rendered by Miss Valerie Ellwood and Miss Nora Halgerson. Mrs. Weir sang "A Brown Bird Singing," accompanied by Mrs. Gray, who also played a piano duet with Mrs. Weir. Mrs. B. Skelton was the winner of the cake, of which she guessed the correct weight. Among those present was Bishop Basil of Japan, who is the guest in Metchosin of Rev. W. C. Gemmill and Miss Gemmill. The Bishop gave a short address about life and customs in Japan.

The regular meeting of the Metchosin Women's Institute will be held on Wednesday, June 4, at 2:30 at the home of the president, Mrs. McVicken.

It is most unusual at this time of the year to have so many regular assistance. They want to be self-supporting but due to scarcity of employment, it is impossible for them to carry on.

We hope those enjoying prosperity will realize the situation and that this appeal will meet with an immediate and sympathetic response.

We appreciate the kindly interest of contributors in the conditions of the less fortunate and feel sure this appeal will meet with generous support.

YOUR BABY and MINE

WISDOM FROM THE MOUTHS OF "FLAPPER" MOTHERS

Many sorely tried souls have found an outlet through this department, and I believe it benefits the mother as much to print her emotions in black and white as it does to get any comment on them. A refreshing letter with a keen sense of humor, which I enjoyed and appreciated, arrived from Mrs. D. K. who terms herself a "flapper" mother.

A SCHEDULE BABY

But here is the letter: "My baby girl is three months old, gets lots of sunshine and fresh air, is kept on a regular schedule, has had cod liver oil, and weighs fourteen pounds. She is solid, strong, happy, kicks and sleeps and seldom cries."

"I know a neighbor whose boy is four months old. She called on me one nice, warm, sunny day with her child dressed in two wool petticoats."

wool shirt, stockings and boots, a heavy all-wool sweater, cap and blanket. When she came in I expected she would remove some of this and she did. She took off the blanket! I had the door open and a gentle breeze blowing in.

SURPRISING IGNORANCE

"She fed him and he threw it up. In about fifteen minutes he grunted and she fed him again and he promptly threw that up. This kept up from one until four and in between times she walked the floor with him. All this time he hardly let a peep out of him. Poor thing, he couldn't be so full and so bundled up. He couldn't hold his head or even kick. According to my idea that is nothing short of a miracle, but I am one of those terrible 'flappers' who isn't supposed to be mentally fit to rear children. No doubt you have heard of them."

"I told this woman that we were trying to rear our child by the book and she said, 'Why, don't you love her?' And I said I didn't think love needed to be blind in a case like this."

"There isn't any object to this letter, but the whole thing is such a shock to me. I didn't think anyone was that ignorant in these days. Why, even my mother, old-fashioned as she is, wouldn't do that. I have your feeding leaflet and read your column like the Bible. If you read all this letter I thank you, and even if you don't I thank you anyway."

ARION CLUB SEEKS UNITY IN VICTORIA

Will Hold Meeting With Other Musical Organizations to Discuss Suggestions

Aim to Avoid Clashing of Programmes and to Forward Music as Much as Possible

In an effort to get more concerted activity in musical circles of Victoria, the Arion Club has called a meeting of musical societies of the city to consider several new schemes. The meeting will be held in the Arion Club rooms on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

It was the feeling of the club that the number of societies in the city, being under no direct advisory board, constantly clashed with each other in public engagements. To obviate this and to further music in general, the organization has put forward the following suggestions for discussion:

Consideration of the engagement of articles from other centres.

The production of a combined programme by amalgamation.

Reduction in the cost of music by co-operative buying.

Consideration of the need for, and a willingness to assist in obtaining a suitable auditorium.

The fostering of similar junior organizations to provide adult continued interest.

To further the study and practice of vocal music as an asset in the development of a physically healthy nation.

To raise the standard of musical production to the highest possible plane.

To bring about true harmony.

SOCKEYE SALMON PACT RATIFIED BY CANADA

A treaty had been submitted to the House by the government. When the bill had come before the committee there developed a considerable difference of opinion as to the advisability of sanctioning it. The government found it difficult, at that time, to understand the opposition of Conservative members to the treaty, particularly in view of the whole-hearted support it was receiving from the government and Premier of the province of British Columbia. He read minutes passed by the British Columbia Government and an interview by Premier S. P. Tolmie to substantiate this.

AFTER VISITING B.C.

The Prime Minister congratulated the Conservative members on their change of heart since they had returned to their own province. The government last year had decided to withdraw the treaty because of the opposition from the Conservative members, and particularly the implication spread abroad that the government was surrendering certain Canadian interests to the United States. The treaty submitted to the House now had some changes from that of one year ago, but they were of only minor significance. The modifications, however, although not very important, served a good purpose if they brought about unanimous support.

DIFFERENCES EXPLAINED

Mr. King read a statement which set forth, clause by clause, the differences between the new treaty and the old.

For a time the treaty had been withdrawn at Washington, Mr. King continued, as a result of certain representations of United States interests affected.

Mr. Bennett, Conservative leader, said Senator Borah had said the treaty had been withdrawn for further consideration.

Mr. King replied that it was because of representations by United States interests. He intimated that Canadianists had sought modifications of the treaty by way of Washington instead of Ottawa. The place for Canadians to apply was to the Canadian Government and not to the United States.

The Prime Minister explained the changes in the treaty along the lines of the explanation previously given by Major-General A. D. McBeck, Conservative, North Vancouver, who supported the changes in the area covered by the treaty had been made at the suggestion of the United States. Any apprehension as to the treaty interfering with water power development had been removed by a change in the wording.

BENNETT SPEAKS

Mr. Bennett, Conservative leader, said his own position was that the approach to this matter should be non-political. All were agreed a satisfactory treaty was desirable but last year's convention had contained some elements that were undesirable from a national viewpoint.

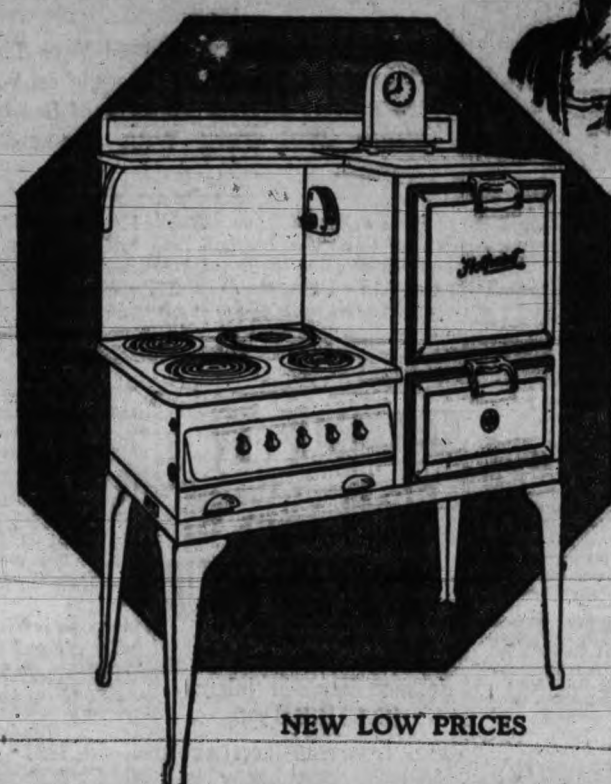

There was no doubt the Government of British Columbia had approved the treaty, said Mr. Bennett, but he had later ventured to point out to Premier Tolmie certain considerations to which at that time his attention had not been directed, and in December last, in consequence of considerations which appeared to the United States Minister to be good, that body had withdrawn the treaty.

Effort was made to negotiate a new pact, and that pact was the document before the House.

So far as the Provincial Government was concerned, Premier Tolmie had telegraphed to him suggesting certain alterations. These he had placed before the Prime Minister. He was bound to say the attitude of the Prime Minister was frank and that he had received Mr. Bennett's expressions of opinion with courtesy.

Summing up, he could say with satisfaction and pride that by reason of the treaty having been withdrawn

Show Young Man Where to Put Coat

QUESTIONS

1. When a young man calls to see me in the evening, should I take his coat and hat? Is it always better to let him take off his hat and coat?
2. Is it proper for him to make suggestions for leaving?
3. When he takes me out to dinner, should I, or should he, serve the tea?
4. Should the girl, when leaving, remain sitting while being helped with her coat (it being placed on the back of her chair) or should she rise to take her coat?
5. When two couples meet, one girl knowing the other girl, what is the correct way to go about introducing?
6. If one girl knows one man?
7. If there are three girls and three men should the three girls be introduced first?

1. When at a dance, what is the correct way to accept dances?
2. Should the young man take you back to your escort, or should your escort come to find you?

ANSWERS

1. When a young man calls to see you, do not take his hat and coat, but instead, indicate to him where he is to place them. Yes, ask him to take off his coat—we will hope that he already has taken off his hat.
2. Yes, since he is the guest.
3. It seems to me more appropriate for the woman to serve tea. You may, if you wish, ask the host if he wishes to have you do this: "Shall I serve the tea?"
4. This is as the girl prefers; in other words it depends on which she finds or considers the more convenient.
5. Either presents her escort to the other girl, and the other girl introduces her escort to the first girl. Then either girl—whichever is the more socially alert—introduces the two men to each other.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

AN INTERESTING insight into the feelings of the Australian cricketers at present in England on a tour, towards the restrictions existing in that country regarding the mingling of amateurs and professionals is given in a recent article written by W. O. McGehean, noted New York sports writer, who is in London. The article as written by McGehean from London follows:

"One of the younger Australians here for the cricket test matches has broken his promise not to write anything for the newspapers. This is one of the thirty-six prohibitions imposed upon the visiting cricket players.

The others range from a limitation of the number of interviews to a prohibition of the young Australian being approached and sent home because he wrote his little piece anonymously and in the pure amateur spirit of indignation, which emotion has not yet been commercialized.

"It seems that at the dinner given to welcome the Australians at the Sportsman's Club of London the noted professional cricket players of England were not invited to the feast board.

"It is not done at the Sportsman's Club, this placing of professionals on a par with the gentlemen players, even on an occasion of this nature.

"Several of the London journals commented upon the inappropriateness of a cricket dinner without Jack Hobbs, who is to cricket the world over what Babe Ruth is to baseball, only perhaps a little more so.

"Neither Hobbs nor several of the other professional players who will be called upon to defend the celebrated Ashes for England were treated with the imperial amenities were being passed about. The young Australian writes:

"What damned snobbery is this!—that is showing itself at the outset of our tour? What is responsible for this apparent insult to English pros?"

"Surely there could have been found some door through which they could have entered the recent functions apart from the gentlemen.

"Are not Hobbs, Hammond, Sutcliffe and company good enough to associate with us on and off the field? Perhaps England has not felt the need for them on Test days.

"Let it be known to all that we Australians are showing itself at all times and we are all feeling keenly their absence at the recent doings.

"But Hobbs and company can well dispense with the stuffy and fulsome salutatory speeches of the cricket deeds and great fights to save England from defeat will plead against oblivion for their names, and they will be remembered as having played the game.

"What Warriner, Chapman, Gilligan, Douglas are thinking about it all would be a treat to know. I wish I could sign my name.

"Your remarks would be surprised, but we are all held down, and my one hope is that the girls who lent me this type will not give me away. She agrees with me and she says, 'I agree with all.'"

"I understood that the defence of the Sportsman's Club is that there was no extra gate for the professionals in the place where the entertainment was being held.

"In English cricket-circles the professional players never are permitted to enter the field through the clubhouse gate. Perhaps the members of the Sportsman's Club felt that the professionals like Hobbs would feel embarrassed if they had been invited to the party and that there was only one way into the banquet hall.

"Of this I don't know. A few weeks ago I sat in at a dinner at which Jack Hobbs was sitting at the right hand of what some of the boys call a belted earl, and listening while the noble gentleman was conversing concerning cricket and the nobility of sport in general.

"I know that Hobbs must have come to that function through the same entrance as the earl, because there was only one way into the place and that was up a narrow flight of stairs leading from the cocktail room."

UNPOPULAR CALL

Hollywood, Cal., May 30.—Vigo Doman, Ocean Park, was given the decision over Denny Lenhart, Seattle heavyweight slugger, here yesterday evening in the ten-round main event. The decision was unpopular and the crowd hurled programmes, papers and other articles into the ring.

SHAKE-UP IN SELECTION OF BRITISH FOUR

Only One of Original Team Retains Place in International Polo Team

Capt. Tremayne Replaces Himself; Luis Lacey Is Selected as No. 1

London, May 30.—A drastic shakeup in the ranks of the British four that will challenge at Meadowbrook in September for the International Polo Cup surprised followers of the horseman's game on both sides of the Atlantic to-day.

With but one exception, the entire team named by Capt. Charles H. Tremayne was shelved in favor of a four that is generally considered the strongest to represent Great Britain since 1914, when the cup last rested on this side of the water. In three attempts to win back the international trophy since the World War—1921, 1924 and 1927—Britain has been turned back.

Capt. Tremayne not only displaced himself from the four that is expected to sail for the United States in the middle of July, but named as No. 1 on his team Luis Lacey, Anglo-Argentinian, who is generally considered the strongest to represent Great Britain since 1914, when the cup last rested on this side of the water. In three attempts to win back the international trophy since the World War—1921, 1924 and 1927—Britain has been turned back.

Gerald Baldwin, a coaching young player, was placed at No. 2 on the new four, with Capt. C. T. "Pat" Roark, crack Irish international, at No. 3. Alden Roark, brother of "Pat," will play. Capt. Roark is the only member of the team as originally picked who retained his place.

Kilmarnock Displays Brilliant Football

Touring Scottish Football Eleven Scores 6-1 Victory Over Toronto Ulster

Old Country Eleven Likes Heavy Going and Gives Splendid Exhibition

Guelph, Ont., May 30.—On a slippery pitch and in a cold, raw wind, the touring Kilmarnock soccer team demonstrated to 2,500 shivering fans yesterday evening that they revel in the going under just such conditions.

Launching an organized thrust shortly after the start of their game with Ulster United, or Toronto, the tourists maintained a persistent pressure throughout the game and trotted off the field on the long end of 6-1 score.

Ramsay, Kilmarnock's outside left, opened the scoring ten minutes after play started, and a few minutes later Walters added another. Both were the product of splendid team play. Ulster made an attempt to enter the score column, but the sturdy Scottish defence thwarted their best intentions.

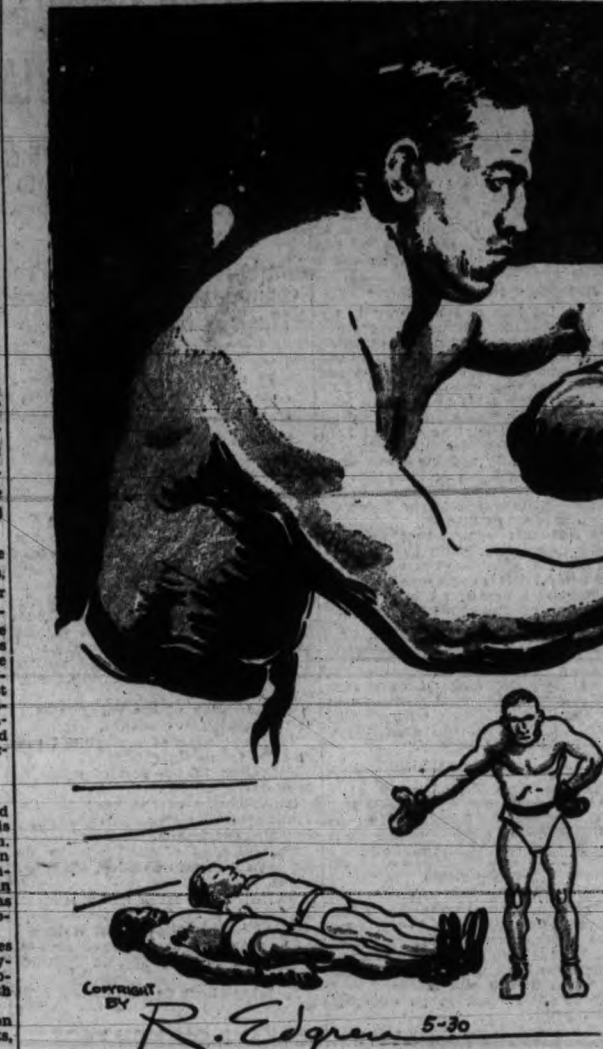

Kilmarnock essayed another assault which rewarded them their third goal which was tallied by Ramsay on a neat drive. McKewen completed the first half scoring for the Scots, converting a pass from St. Smith, which Kirk failed to reach.

Ulster's lone goal was obtained by Graham, the Torontonian's centre forward.

BRILLIANT PERFORMANCE
Kilmarnock availed themselves of every "break" and rounded out a brilliant performance with two more goals, scored by Cunningham and Walters, in the second half.

The teams follow:
Kilmarnock—Clemie, Robertson, Noble, Irvine, T. C. Smith, McKewen, Walters, M. Smith, Cunningham, Ramsay and Arthur.
Ulster United—Kirk, Macle, Pryor, Stewart, Wilson, Hagen, Paxton, Denne, Graham, Galloway and Erasmusson.

Miracles of Sport

With a chance of going into the league leadership for a couple of days, the Jokers will send Alex. Holden, their star pitcher, against the Sons of Canada. Ray Pucitt, who "hurled" the Canadians to a victory over the Jokers in the last meeting between these clubs, is expected to try for his second victory of the season over last year's champions. The Sons, after losing their first three games this season, have begun to hit their stride and have chalked up three successive victories.

With the Elks scheduled to field their regular team, a good game is looked for when they meet Bremerton. Norm Forbes, who has not been beaten this season, will try for his third consecutive victory. Forbes has started in two league games this year and has won them both, twirling a no-hit no-run game on one of his appearances.

In the evening fixture the Eagles will strengthen up with several players from other clubs in order to provide the visiting American nine with stiff competition.

Little is known of the Bremerton team, although, according to reports, they are a snappy aggregation.

HELEN MOODY AND TILDEN BOTH ADVANCE

Former Defeats Fraulein Helena Rost in French Hard Court Tournament

Tilden Beats Lyttleton Rogers, Giant Irish Star, By 6-1, 6-1, 7-5

Aueville, France, May 30.—Helen Wills Moody reached the semi-finals of the women's singles in the French hard court tennis championship to-day, defeating Fraulein Helena Rost of Germany, 6-4, 6-1.

The German girl, who reached the quarter finals through the default of Eileen Bennett Wilkinson, failed to win a single game in the first set, losing three games at love and bringing only one to deuce.

Baron Humbert de Morpurgo of Italy eliminated Edgar Moor of Australia, 6-4, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, to reach the semi-finals in the men's division.

Italy's No. 1, ranking player got the jump on Moor, but the Antipodean always a slower starter, came back with a run in the third and fourth sets. In the final set, however, he suffered a severe cramp and the Italian had no difficulty in finishing off the match.

Bill Tilden swept into the semi-finals to the tune of a smashing victory over Lyttleton Rogers, six foot seven-inch giant from Ireland. The scores were 6-1, 6-1, 7-5.

Big Bill surprised the gallery by the ease with which he won from Rogers, a player who upset Henri Cochet at Biarritz six weeks ago.

Cecile Aussem, young German star, defeated Elisabeth Ryan, U.S. veteran, in a quarter final match, 4-6, 6-1, 6-0.

Marshall Brothers Seriously Injured After Hitting Wall

Drop Twenty-five Feet Following Crash Into Retaining Wall at 100 Miles an Hour; Fifteen Cars Forced Out of Race Through Accidents and Motor Trouble; Six Entrants Pile Up When Two Cars Come Together, Blocking Track; Peter De Paolo, One of Favorites, Forced Out.

Speedway, Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—With a deafening roar from wide open motors, thirty-eight cars, with two men huddled in each, flashed away at 10 o'clock to-day in the start of the 500-mile automobile race, over the bumpy brick course of the Indianapolis speedway.

The field contained the pick of United States drivers and two Italian invaders seeking a share of the $115,000 in prize money.

As the start was made, it appeared like a glorious day for the race. The cold wind swept the spectators shivering and hoping for warmer temperatures.

The sun shone brilliantly from a cloudless sky, however, and the race due to accidents or motor trouble during the first 100 miles, leaving twenty-three in the grind.

Jimmy Gleason was another accident victim, but escaped injury. He hit the retaining wall, cracking a wheel early in the race.

A car speeding 100 miles an hour, driven by Marshall, of Indianapolis, smashed into the north retaining wall and went over, dropping twenty-five feet to the ground.

Marshall and his mechanic, Paul Marshall, another, were reported seriously injured.

165,000 ATTEND
The crowd of more than 165,000 spectators cheered lustily as the cars started and then settled back into their seats to watch the drivers take their chances with death in their mad dash around the two-and-one-half-mile oval.

Billy Arnold, twenty-three-year-old Chicagoan, remained a favorite with the crowd along with two previous winners of the race, Pete de Paolo and Louis Meyer.

Arnold started from the pole position. The honor was accorded him because of his achievement in turning in 113.288 miles per hour as the fastest time of the qualifying trial.

The cars started three abreast and there were thirteen rows on the track when an exploding bomb was set off as the starting signal.

The first accident occurred when car No. 18, driven by Chester Gardner of Pittsburgh, crashed into the retaining wall on the north end of the track and was wrecked. Gardner and his mechanic miraculously escaped injury. Gardner was on his thirteenth mile at the time.

Two cars, tearing at break-neck speed, collided on the treacherous north turn, spilling four others with them. The cars that collided were the entries of Marion Treder of Indianapolis and Peter de Paolo. De Paolo, however, was not driving at the time. Fred Roberts of Danville, Ill., was behind the wheel. None of the drivers were reported injured. The accident happened as the cars were speeding on their fifth mile.

The collision knocked six cars out of the race. They were the entries of de Paolo, Treder, "Babe" Stapp of Los Angeles, Lou Moore of Los Angeles, Johnny Seymour of Escondido, Mich., and "Deacon" Litz of Dubois, Pa.

The sixteen-cylinder Italian racing creation, driven by Baracchini of Bologna, Italy, was forced out of the race, due to ignition trouble, before twenty-five miles had been reached off. This withdrawal left one other foreign entry in the race.

The horse died on its feet, in the stall.

Four teams are now entered. In addition to the above two, the Canadian Scottish and the B.C. Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery, will compete.

Prizes for the different winners will be presented by Lieutenant-Governor R. Randolph Bruce following the match. It was announced by Lieut. D. Fyvie, secretary of the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association, yesterday.

The 5th Brigade team will be composed of the following: Major F. Richardson, Capt. R. Gassner, Lieut. T. Pauline, R.S.M. Frank Hatcher, Sgt. F. V. Richardson, Sgt. W. Quayle, Sgt. S. Brown, Sgt. J. Quayle.

Major League Ball Clubs Have Reached First Mile Post

Present Standings Bring Promise of Two Bitter Races

Brooklyn Defeats New York to Go Into Tie With St. Louis for National League Lead as "Midseason" Is Reached; Washington, on Top of American Loop, Being Hard Pressed by World Champion Athletics; Clubs Are Grouped Closely Together in Both Circuits.

The first big holiday of the baseball season, Memorial Day, is in many ways the first mile post of the pennant race. Coming in the middle of the month of play, it marks the turn into that part of the campaign known as "midseason."

Standings to-day bring promise of two fine races in the major circuits with the National League's contenders probably more closely matched. The Brooklyn Robins and St. Louis Cardinals come up to the mile post tied for the lead as the result of yesterday's one game. The Robins overcame a half-game deficit by beating the New York Giants, 4 to 1, while St. Louis was idle.

Behind them, Pittsburgh, Chicago, New York and Boston are in a close group, the Pirates just three games to the lead, while the other two, Cincinnati and Philadelphia, are not out of touch with the leaders.

Brooklyn found a two-man combination effective in beating the Giants for the sixth time in eight meetings. Babe Herman produced the Robin runs, driving in three with two homers, while Bill Clark prevented Giant scoring by allowing only six hits.

Washington has a clear margin of leadership in the American League, the champions Philadelphia Athletics are pressing the Senators hard, while seven of the eight clubs have averages of .400 or better. The distance between the Senators and the Athletics was cut down by a full game by the results of yesterday's clashes.

SOX INTO CELLAR

Philadelphia sent the Boston Red Sox into the cellar with a 2-1 victory in a pitching duel between Leroy Mahaffey and Milton Gaston, while the Senators again found George Pippas of the Yankees a bit too tough for them and went down to a 4-3 defeat.

Mahaffey and Gaston each yielded five hits in their battle, but the Red Sox could get only one man past second base, while Regan gave the Athletics an extra counter on a bad error that was followed by Cochran's double in the seventh inning.

Pippas, the only Yankee pitcher to beat the Senators this season, repeated his previous triumph by keeping nine hits thoroughly scattered while his teammates made the most of five blows at opportune moments. Only one of Chicago, May 30.—Rogers Hornsby, key man of the Chicago National League team's defense, suffered a fracture of the left ankle in the first game of the Cubs double-header with St. Louis to-day, and will be lost to the team for at least six weeks.

Hornsby's injury came in the third inning when he was forced between second and third bases. He attempted to slide into the bag and was blocked in such a manner his leg was twisted.

Hornsby has been playing under a handicap this season with an ailing right heel.

JUST BALLYHOO?

By JIMMY THOMPSON

The famous Edmonton basketball coach, Percy Page, according to some angles appears to be up to his ears in trouble. Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States claims that the Edmonton Grads played the Taylor Trunks basketball team of Chicago recently and that the team they were playing is professional. Not only that, but that Mr. Page was warned of these facts before the game.

However, the famous "Percy" defends himself in saying he inquired into the status of the basketball situation and never received any reply from Mr. Ferris. Not only this but Mr. Page points out that his team is not affiliated with the A.A.U. or the W.A.A.P. of Canada. However, it has been pointed out recently that the Alberta Basketball Association holds an affiliation with the Canadian Basketball Association and the latter is affiliated with the Women's Federation of Canada.

St. Andrew's Have Defaulted Match In Connaught Cup

Vancouver, May 30.—Secretary T. W. Christie, of the B.C.F.A. announced that a change has been made in Saturday's Dominion championship soccer games at Connaught Park whereby Westminster Royals will play Wallabies in the second game of the double-header instead of St. Andrew's meeting St. Andrew's.

This switch has been made necessary because St. Andrew's, asked for their game to be set back to a later date on account of injuries. To this request the B.C.F.A. executive was not agreeable, and informed the club that unless the match was played as scheduled the game would be awarded to St. Andrew's by default.

As the Scots say they can not turn out this week, the Provincial Association executive has ruled that St. Andrew's pass into the semi-finals by default.

Spurt Is Expected In Canadian Bond Flotations Shortly

New York, May 30.—A sharp spurt in Canadian municipal and government bond flotations in this market is expected by investment bankers within the next six weeks. Increased financing by Canadian cities and provinces has already been indicated by announcements of important bond sales by the cities of Toronto, Ont., and Quebec, P.Q. To these items will probably be added a sizable flotation by the province of Ontario, as officials are now contemplating the marketing of about $25,000,000 bonds. The two issues of Canadian municipal finance in immediate prospect are a Toronto offering of $13,500,000 5 per cent serial debentures, on which tenders were opened on May 14, and a Quebec City offering of $3,500,000 5 per cent thirty-year bonds, awarded to the highest bidder May 13. Powerful syndicates composed of Canadian and American investment bankers were formed to bid on these items. Favorable tenders were assured, as Canadian municipalities provide a good yield with impeccable security. The capable financial administration of Canadian cities and provinces is axiomatic among municipal bond dealers, and a fine market is thus assured for these obligations. It is, moreover, an international market, since the London and Amsterdam market also frequently apply for portions of issues. Provincial loans now definitely in prospect include also approximately $10,000,000 of Manitoba financing and about $4,500,000 of Alberta financing. These loans may appear very shortly if conditions of marketing remain favorable, but as there is no immediate pressure for the funds a delay of some months is also possible. Manitoba officials are now considering the refunding of $10,000,000 of outstanding obligations, mainly short-term, due this year. Alberta asked for bids on $2,500,000 bonds on April 30, but postponed the sale owing to market conditions.

RAILWAY FINANCING LIKELY

Extensive financing under the railway guarantee of the Dominion government also is an imminent possibility. Such financing has been fairly extensive in the last year, as large sums are needed for railway construction and equipment purposes. About half the Canadian railways are owned by the Dominion, which guarantees the related bonded obligations unconditionally. Accordingly, as to all intents and purposes obligations of the Canadian government, and the terms of the issues are correspondingly favorable. Authorizations for such flotations were exhausted early this year, when an issue of $18,000,000 Canadian National Railway 5s and another of $6,400,000 Canadian National Steamships 5s were placed on the market.

Additional funds will shortly be required, and it is understood that authorizations for further bond issues for railway purposes are now being sought. No difficulty is expected in this regard, and bankers in close touch with the authorities will be granted within a few weeks. Marketing of the railway obligations will probably follow with the customary dispatch. As a rule, two of the most prominent bankers expected in the United States are asked to bid on the issues at a time that seems propitious for public distribution. Award of the bonds quickly follows on the best bid, and the business is thus consummated in a semi-private fashion that retains all the best elements of public bidding.

GOVERNMENT FINANCING UNLIKELY

Direct financing by the Dominion government remains altogether unlikely for some time to come, as the revenues are more than sufficient to take care of all requirements. The Dominion finances are in such excellent shape that repayment out of surplus funds was possible on maturities of $40,000,000 last August and $20,000,000 in February. The next large maturity is $45,000,000 on December 1 this year, and this item also will probably be repaid without resort to new financing. Some bankers expect continuation of this process until the time arrives for disposing of the war loans of $958,000,000 due in 1933 and 1934.

Canadian municipal and railway guarantee finance was fairly heavy in this market in the three months from December 1, 1929 to February 22, 1930. The flotations of the period were close to $100,000,000, and the transfers thus occasioned were of great importance in bringing the Canadian dollar close to par value with the American dollar. In the distorted financial markets of more than 2 per cent, placing a correspondingly heavy burden on Dominion trade and industry. After reaching par early this year Canadian dollars again slumped to their present discount of about 1/4 of 1 per cent. Flotations of the last two months have been relatively small. The chief items were issues of $4,061,485 City of Vancouver 5s on March 25; $3,000,000 Province of British Columbia 4 1/2s on April 1 and $4,350,000 Province of New Brunswick 4 1/2s on April 11. These issues were offered in both the Canadian and the United States markets. Total city and provincial issues during the first quarter of the year amounted to $53,045,000 or 38 per cent of all Canadian bond flotations of any description. This compares with $35,900,000 in the first quarter of 1929 and with $16,732,000 in the first quarter of 1928.

ESTIMATES ARE APPROVED BY THE COMMONS

Sums Totalling More Than $80,000,000 Voted By House Last Night

Ottawa, May 30.—Sums totaling between $80,000,000 and $90,000,000 in the estimates were passed by the House of Commons last night and this morning. The principal items being the $48,000,000 for "European war pensions," which was carried without any discussion whatever.

Appropriations for the Department of National Revenue, totalling around $15,000,000; for the Department of Health and Pensions, involving expenditures of about $20,000,000, including the big item, and estimates for the Department of Trade and Commerce approximating $9,000,000 were passed.

WIDE RANGE

A general discussion, ranging from Russian coal to the personal expenditures of ministers, was engaged in, but in general progress was rapid until nearly midnight. Many questions were answered by Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and his estimates finally carried.

The last department to be considered was that of the Postmaster-General. No progress was made with these appropriations.

The House adjourned at 1 a.m. until 11 a.m. to-day.

STATED HOOVER WILL SIGN U.S. TARIFF BILL

House and Senate Conferees Agree on Flexible Provision

By KEN CLARK, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent Washington, May 30.—"I imagine the President will sign this bill," said Senator James Watson, Republican floor leader, as the House and Senate conferees brought in yesterday afternoon a new revision of the flexible provision in the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill.

Despite the violent attack immediately launched by Senator Pat Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, it appeared certain that with the newly adjusted provision permitting the President to retain power to lower or raise duties fifty per cent, the bill would become law within a few weeks.

Senator Harrison accused the President of greed for power in tariff revision. Senator Watson replied the President wished to take the tariff out of politics as far as possible.

With all claims of the Senate bill, the bill gone a-glimmering, since it has been shown agreement may be reached with the House on the flexible provision, expert opinion offers odds of five to one the President will sign a bill to make the tariff wall about the United States the highest in history.

WALTER J. FLETCHER

An announcement of local interest was made this week by the General Motors Corporation in the appointment of Fletcher Bros. as Vancouver Island distributors for Frigidaire Products. For some time it has been apparent that the best retail outlet for electrical refrigerators was through well organized stores of high repute such as Fletcher Bros. in Victoria, who have aided so much in the development of the radio industry.

Walter Fletcher, a popular young business man, has taken charge of the Frigidaire division, and has set aside specially fitted rooms on the second floor of the beautifully laid out music store, where the public is invited to the demonstrations of Frigidaire products.

Since its inception the name Frigidaire has been closely linked with every new development in the automatic refrigeration field. Designed originally as a means of proper preservation of food, it has quickly grown to be a most valuable modern household utility. Every modern development in automatic refrigeration has been incorporated in the Frigidaire. The fact that the Frigidaire has so many desirable features greatly influenced Fletcher Bros. to accept the appointment as Vancouver Island distributors. Walter Fletcher said yesterday: "For months past we have seen an ever closer connection between the manufacture of electric refrigeration and the music trade as a logical way in which the presentation to the public should be made. After having represented such world renowned manufacturers as Steinway and Son, the Victor Company and others equally prominent in their respective field, it was felt that Fletcher Bros. should represent the most important company in the field of electric refrigeration. Frigidaire, which will be sold exclusively at Fletcher Bros. stores in Victoria and Duncan, and in the George A. Fletcher Music Stores in Nanaimo and Cumberland."

PROVINCE TO APPEAL ISSUE ON TAXATION

Release From Taxation of Sums Paid to Esquimalt Waterworks Co. Questioned

B.C.E.R. Challenges Vancouver Jury Verdict For $30,150 For Death of Two

Thirty-five appeals had been listed for hearing at the June sitting of the Appeal Court here by noon to-day. The last hour for the filing of appeal books was 4 o'clock this afternoon.

An appeal by the Provincial Assessor against a decision of the Supreme Court in respect to the classification as income or otherwise of certain sums paid by the City of Victoria to the Esquimalt Waterworks Company, is listed for hearing. Under the terms of the expropriation of the waterworks system by the city in 1925, sums approximating $40,000 a year became payable to waterworks company.

Shareholders of the company contended before the provincial court of revision that these payments were as the return of principal, and not income. The Provincial Assessor, T. H. Leeming, ruled otherwise, and from this matter went on a reference to the courts. The appeal is taken by the province from the decision rendered below.

APPEAL JURY VERDICT
The British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited appeals a verdict of $30,150 in favor of Mrs. Mildred Key of Vancouver, who sued following a street railway accident at McCree station, for the loss by death of her husband and daughter. Mrs. Key sued for $50,000 and was awarded the lesser sum at the trial.

The Christian Community of the Universal Brotherhood, as the trading organization of the Doukhobors is known, appeals from proceedings taken against certain of their shipping members under the Produce Marketing Act. The act was involved at the last session of the Appeal Court here on points which challenged its constitutionality in respect to export shipping fees.

TEN CROWN CASES
Of the thirty-five appeals already listed at the trial of which eight of which persons accused under police proceedings ask a review of their treatment at the hands of the lower courts, these being in Rex versus Chow Duck Yuet, and Rex versus Wong Sing, alias Wong Yin.

Jones versus Ryder is a local appeal listed, the trial of which took place in this city in a civil dispute between the parties affected.

The Appeal Court will convene here on June 4.

PLAINTIFF GETS HALF COSTS IN DAMAGE CLAIM

Settlement of Order in Grossman Vs. C.P.R. Follows Court Application

Contributory negligence provisions of recent amendments to Canadian law were criticized in an application before Mr. Justice Fisher in Supreme Court chambers to-day by R. A. Maclean, K.C., in respect to some effects the new provisions were said to have on the division of responsibility between parties in civil suits for damages.

The application was one for a settlement of the jury's verdict in the action of Mrs. Margaret Grossman against the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The plaintiff sued the defendant company recently on a claim for $50,000 for personal injuries as a result of a fall from an outer staircase at the grounds of the Empress Hotel. The jury found a verdict which decided that both parties contributed equally to the cause of accident, in respect to any negligence shown. The jury also assessed the total damages suffered at about $5,000. Mr. Justice Fisher, at the trial, indicated he would be forced to give judgment for half that amount. In his application to-day Mr. Maclean, counsel for the plaintiff, asked settlement of the share for the full amount of the damages assessed by the jury, and for that proportion of the costs of the action which seemed fit to the court. Contributory negligence provisions in this instance, where they had any effect, had a harmful one, submitted Mr. Maclean, pointing out that the plaintiff would be deprived of any practical form of relief after proceeding in her action against the defendant company.

OBITUARY

Many friends attended the funeral service yesterday afternoon, from the Thomson & Fetterly Funeral Home, of Arthur John Wedd. Dean C. S. Quinn officiated, after which the remains were forwarded to Vancouver for cremation.

The funeral of Captain William Vere Brandram Webb took place from the residence, 1048 Transit Road, Oak Bay, to and from the city with service to-day at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, where service was conducted by Canon A. E. de L. Punnis and Rev. H. A. Solley of Esquimalt, B.C., at 2 o'clock. The hymn sung was "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Many friends were present, and numerous beautiful floral offerings covered the casket and hearse. The pallbearers were: Captain G. Cox, A. B. Morrell, J. D. Lewis, A. H. Middleton, D. B. Smith and R. A. Wright. The remains were laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

C. W. Craig, K.C., opposed the application on behalf of the C.P.R. The jury, equivalent to $1,700, and directed that the plaintiff's cost be taxed and half that amount be borne by the defendant. No order would be made in respect to the costs of the defendant, the court concluded.

DEPORTATION HALTED FOR AUSTRALIAN

Headed for Australia Under U.S. Immigration Ban, Youth Wins Freedom Here

British Soil Interposes to Upset Plans of Los Angeles Immigration Board

British soil interposed to-day to save Walter Franklin Scott, eighteen, formerly a citizen of Australia, from deportation by the United States immigration officials from Los Angeles to his homeland.

Scott came to Victoria with an elder brother about a year ago, Mr. Justice Fisher was told by P. R. Leighton, his counsel, in an application in Supreme Court Chambers to-day, and then went to Los Angeles. Recently, under a tightening of the United States immigration code, he was one of a number questioned as to their means of entry into the United States, and was subsequently ordered deported.

Because the United States laws provide that deportation must take place to the country of origin, Scott was on the way to his native heath in charge of United States immigration officials when, through an inadvertency on their part, he was routed to Australia via Victoria. Instead of through a southern port. The moment he stepped on British soil his status changed, and his application for release on habeas proceedings succeeded this morning.

Before making the order for the release of the applicant, Mr. Justice Fisher questioned R. Rolph, acting Canadian immigrant agent here, and ascertained that the Dominion officers had no reason for holding the applicant. His release followed forthwith. The case is an unusual one, and the first example seen in local courts.

FINE PROGRAMME OVER CPCT TO-NIGHT

Elia Stankevich, celebrated concert pianist, will be heard in another entertaining piano recital over CPCT tomorrow evening. The program to-night will feature a number of requests that have accumulated during Miss Stankevich's recent visit to Victoria.

Elia Stankevich will also be heard over CPCT at the same hour tomorrow evening, offering a thirty-minute program of Russian composers.

Immediately following the recital, CPCT's Friday evening studio presentation will be offered, and will feature James McGrath, formerly of the McLeod Players, and now connected with the Coliseum Theatre. Mr. McGrath will be heard in a number of baritone solos.

When Your Stomach Groans With Gas

When Sourness, Pain and Bloating Follow Every Meal
MAKE THIS SIMPLE TEST

If you really want stomach comfort—quick, certain and lasting relief from the usual annoyance of after-eating distress—make this simple NEVER FAILING TEST today!

At trifling cost, get from the nearest drug store some Bismarck-Magnesia—either tablets or powder—and take a little after your next meal. This is a simple, pleasant, inexpensive test that can be depended upon to prove its value in less than five minutes. In most cases, relief comes instantly.

Bismarck-Magnesia is a good old-fashioned recipe that has been straightening out disordered stomachs for many years. Nothing better has ever been found for soothing, cleansing and sweetening the stomach and neutralizing the dangerous stomach acids that cause dyspepsia and indigestion. If you have never tried it, you do not know what stomach comfort means.

STEADY GROWTH IN FOX FARMING

B.C. Body Commends Development at Vancouver Meeting

Good Results Are Expected; Miller Higgs Is President

Commendation of the growth of the association and announcement that extensive advertising in European papers was being carried out featured the meeting of the B.C. Fox and Fur Farmers Association in Vancouver Wednesday evening.

The gathering, which represented the fur interest of the Province, included delegates from the Canadian National Registered Silver Fox Breeder's Association, the Victoria Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association, as well as breeders of blue foxes, Alaskan silver and cross foxes, mink, muskrat and other furbearing animals.

Notifications of the meeting were sent to approximately 600 farmers throughout the Province. Many not in attendance, wrote to the meeting expressing their regret at not being able to attend, and stating that they were taking the keenest interest in the work of the provincial organization.

The chairman, W. Miller Higgs, of Galiano Island, president of the association, spoke with satisfaction on the steady growth of this organization, saying many new members had joined during the last week. The association had already placed advertising in the European press and good results were looked for this fall, he said. All members would receive copies of every inquiry coming in for the particular variety of breeding stock sought, the speaker added. Registration and scoring of fur bearing animals would be carried out this fall by the provincial association.

General approval of the work already accomplished by the executive was voiced. The officers of the association are: President, W. Miller Higgs; vice-president, J. A. Hird; executive, Mrs. Simmonds (Victoria), Mr. Mallory (Chilliwack), Mr. Barber (Millardville) and Mr. Pallen (Vancouver). V. A. Bourne is secretary and the head office of the association is 365 Cordova Street West, Vancouver.

Branch associations are being formed of this parent body all over British Columbia, and much valuable work will be accomplished for the upbuilding of the fur industry of the Province.

Barrows will shortly leave for the east to bring out a new amphibian plane for the Seattle-Victoria service, to be inaugurated by E. C. Lowe, San Francisco, and associates. The Fairchild plane was flown north from San Francisco.

Bennett Explains His Position On Hudson Bay Ry.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 30.—Because, he said, he had suffered a great deal from misrepresentation as to his position with regard to the Hudson Bay Railway, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, to-day made a statement in the House of Commons on this subject when the estimates of $5,000,000 for the project were under consideration in supply. Mr. Bennett's statement followed an announcement by Hon. T. A. Cressat, Minister of Railways, that the harbor facilities would be ready for use by September, 1931, and that the harbor facilities would have been sufficiently advanced by that time to enable shipment of grain.

The vote, Mr. Bennett explained, was in connection with the new elevator, terminal works and dredging as well as for section houses and ballasting along the Hudson Bay Railway.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, May 30.—Wheat: Sentiment appears to be increasingly more friendly to the wheat market, and while export business was of no consequence, being extremely small, the market acted very firm and displayed a gradually creeping-up tendency, with prices gaining 2 cents over the previous close.

Trade volume was small but outside of a little selling by the pool the offerings were extremely light and were easily absorbed.

With outside interest practically nil to-day, due largely to the fact that all American markets were closed, the trade was practically all local, and advice from abroad stated that resellers and the pool were offering wheat cheaper than the cost of replacement.

There were showers in Alberta during the past twenty-four hours, but Saskatchewan and Manitoba were dry and warm. The favorable reports continue to drift in as regards conditions in western Canada. Most areas apparently are too dry and it is believed that the high winds prevailing the past week or two have caused considerable soil drifting and consequent damage, and that rains will be urgently needed in most areas in about a week or two at most. This appears to be the chief cause of the upward trend to the wheat market.

There was a good shipping demand for No. 4 wheat, and some odd lots traded at a spread 1 1/2 cents over the previous close. But this grade is scarce and round lots hard to obtain. All other grades were in only moderate demand; spreads were unchanged.

Further light showers were reported from winter wheat territory and crop reports being received are pessimistic with indications that the winter wheat crop will be considerably smaller than last year.

Liverpool closed unchanged to 1/2 lower and Buenos Ayres was unchanged at midday. Winnipeg futures closed: May 1934, July 1934, October 1934.

Course trains: For the first time this season there has been some export business in oats, some three hundred-weight being taken, also some feed grade. There is also a good inquiry. There is no foreign demand for barley or rye, but it would not be surprising to see business develop shortly.

The pool were credited with selling both wheat and oats in last night's session. The market was very quiet, and the market acted strong. Oats closed 1/2 higher, barley 1/4 higher, rye 1/4 higher. Flax market was higher in sympathy with the general trend upward. Trade light and demand quiet.

There Are a Million Ways of Getting Your Man, Girls; But the One to Use Depends on The Type of Man—Map Out His Character and Disposition and Adapt Your Strategy to It

THERE is no question that girls ask me so often as this: "How can I get my man?"

Naturally no specific answer can be given to this question. There is no tried and tested, follow-this-rule-and-you-cannot-fail recipe for bringing the man to the proposing point as there is for bringing water to a boil. It all depends upon the type of man, and to each man his own methods. The tactics that succeed with one man fail with another. Some you catch with sugar and others you lure with a sauce piquant. Hence the wise virgin has to study her man and adapt her methods to him.

Some men like to be pursued. Other men desire to be the hunter instead of the prey. Some men crave the peach that hangs highest on the tree and that they have to risk their necks to get. Other men have a little to be said for the peach to drop into their mouth. Therefore, in planning her campaign, a girl must map out the man's disposition and character and adapt her strategy to it.

If the man is of an affectionate yet shy nature, she must wear her heart upon her sleeve. Nothing appeals to that sort of man so much as a woman is in love with him. It rouses all the chivalry in his nature. He is the preordained support of the clinging vine, and any woman can have him who festoons herself about his neck.

He never has the nerve to push away the hands that cling to him. Millions of men of this kind have been married by women that they would never have picked out for themselves for wives, just because they couldn't bear to hurt the poor little thing that loved them so much and wanted them so badly. And, anyway, just the fact that the woman was so crazy about him was proof positive to the man of what superior sense and taste and judgment she possessed.

The shy man is a poor sprinter and any woman can catch him if she will run after him hard enough. It will flatter his vanity to have her make the dates, and call him up over the phone to ask him why he didn't come last night and write him six letters to his one. And when upon an auspicious day she lets him see that she is breaking her heart over him, he will avert the tragedy by popping the question.

On the other hand, if the man is of the cock, self-sure type, it is fatal for a girl to let him find out that she has marked him for her own and that she is hot on his trail. That puts him on his mettle to outwit her and in vain does she spread her snares before him. He has scented them and he dodges every pitfall that has been dug for his feet.

Flout that sort of man. Break engagements with him. Treat him rough. Invent imaginary admirers. That will wake him up and make him take notice. The harder to get a girl is, the more a girl seems to dislike him, the more determined he is to make her fall for him. It is always bring the more determined he is to make her fall for him.

The absence treatment is the only effective remedy for the man a girl has grown up with. She has become a chronic case with him that will never reach a crisis unless she treats it with a cold shock. For years and years he has been coming to see her, depending upon her for companionship until he has ceased to see her as a woman and regards her merely as a pleasant habit.

Things are so satisfactory just as they are that he doesn't desire to change them, so he has to be given a jolt to make him realize that the girl is necessary to his happiness. The best way to do this is suddenly to let go somewhere and let him miss her. Leave him to his loneliness. Let him have nowhere to spend his evenings, nobody to entertain him. A month's absence, or setting up a rival, will practically always bring this man to time. When he thinks he is about to lose a girl, he foregoes his option on her heart and hand.

Then there is the man with the mother complex. He always wants somebody to get him and let him suck her thumb, so to speak. He wants to be coddled and cajoled and sympathized with and to be told what a world's wonder he is when he succeeds and to have somebody else blamed for all of his mistakes and failures.

He is so easy a girl-child can handle him. All a woman has to do is to lend him her ears and listen to his vainglorious boasts or his hard-luck story. Any first-class sympathizer and yes-yes woman can have for the taking.

If a woman has her weather eye on a widower, her best bet is a gas range. Any woman who has a widower bent is an idiot to trot him around to night clubs and make him take her to restaurants for dinner.

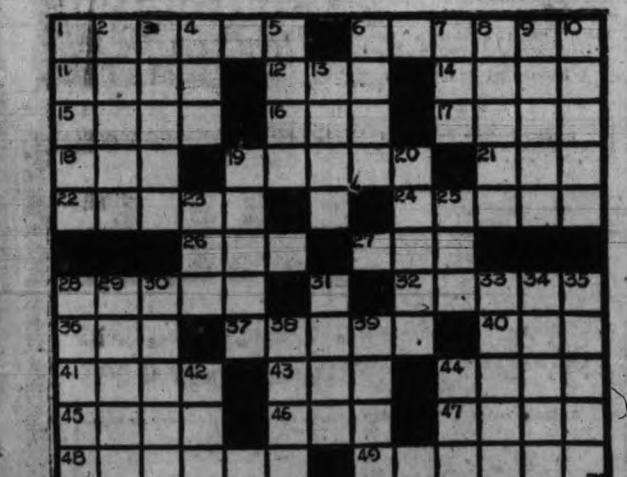

What the poor soul is pining for is the comfort of home and home cooking, and all that any lady spider needs to do to beguile him into her parlor is just to set a little table for two, with a pink-shaded lamp and a pie that she averts she made with her own hand.

If the man is of the common or garden variety, nothing is more effective than turning the waterworks on him. No man ever yet popped the question to a woman when she was gay and wisecracking. There is something about laughter that neutralizes sentiment.

But let a woman break down and weep and a man begins patting her on the shoulder and saying, "There, there, now," and before he knows it he has his arm around her and she is sobbing on the second button of his vest and he is undertaking the job of consoling her for life.

These are a few of the ways to get your man. There are a million others and most women know them all. DOROTHY DIX. (Copyright by Public Ledger)

GETS IDEAS ON HARDWARE TRADE

Retailer Must Be Progressive, Says J. Morse Hatt

J. MORSE-HATT

After a three weeks' combined vacation and business trip to California, J. Morse-Hatt, local hardware dealer, returned to the city on Friday last. The primary object of his trip south was to gather new ideas for the operation of his hardware store in Victoria. Mr. Hatt is a believer in the theory that the retailer of to-day must be progressive in all the important departments of his business. The arrangement of his store should simplify shopping, his newspaper advertising should be as large as possible and easy to read, and the merchandise itself should be fresh, interesting and as reasonably priced as circumstances permit.

Mr. Hatt visited the largest hardware stores in Washington, Oregon and California, and feels himself well repaid by the many new ideas he has gathered by contact with leaders in the hardware trade.

ANTI-LIQUOR EXPORT MEASURE SOON IN FORCE

Canadian Press

Ottawa, May 30.—This is likely the last week clearances will be granted liquor from Canada destined to the United States. The new bill preventing such clearances will come into effect when it is signed, which will be one of the last acts before Parliament is prorogued—probably either to-day or Saturday. It is proposed messages be telegraphed to all customs collectors notifying them the change is in effect as soon as the bill has been signed by the Governor-General.

Maple Sugar Bill Is Given Approval

Ottawa, May 30.—After a stormy passage through the House of Commons yesterday, the bill to prevent adulteration of maple sugar and maple syrup was passed. The clause prohibiting the sale of any articles as maple products which contained artificial maple flavoring was eliminated. In its place a clause was inserted providing such articles must be plainly marked to indicate they contained artificial maple flavoring.

"SONG OF THE FLAME," PICTURESCUE DRAMA, NOW SHOWING HERE

"Song of the Flame," now at the Capitol Theatre, a First National picture of the Hammerstein and Haybach operetta, was produced in full Vitaphone sound and Technicolor throughout. It paints in sound and color a spectacle of the Russian revolution more massive and impressive than anything heretofore shown on the screen. There are armored motorcycles passing over shelled bridges; autos crashing into trains; escapes from castles, dashes on foot, horseback, auto and plane. In short, "Song of the Flame" is a stuntman's paradise!

GREAT POPULARITY GREETED BRITISH FILM AT COLUMBIA

No British drama of recent years has equalled "His House in Order," the feature now showing at the Columbia Theatre in the widespread fame it obtained. It is a little surprising that the inevitable filming of it should have tarried so long. Many players will recall the story of this domestic drama—the husband who worshipped the memory of his first wife, and compared her only too favorably with the second one, the sprightly governess to his child—until an accident laid bare the first wife's double life, and her martyred successor was restored to her rightful place in her husband's esteem.

The conference would consider all matters relating to employment and unemployment. This was the Premier's reply to a question from Mr. Heaps as to whether the matter of uniform legislation respecting the eight-hour day would be taken up.
